Come into school and share a book with your child.

Reading makes up a fundamental part of language development in early childhood. Not only does it help with a child's ability to understand words it also ignites the spark for imagination.

Reading introduces children to the world around them and new concepts.

Reading together is fun. It's a time for closeness, laughing and talking together. It can also give children a flying start in life to help them become lifelong readers.
